when purchased. The proceeds from the sale of a collection item are recorded as an increase in net assets when sold.

The collection is managed according to a policy which adheres to the standards of the American Association of Museums. The policy delineates responsibilities in such matters as museum ethics, acquisitions, loans, care of collections, and deaccessioning. Objects held in the collection are carefully tracked and monitored. PMA's deaccessioning policy allows for sale or trade of an object only when it is incompatible with PMA's collecting mission and when clear and complete title to the work is confirmed. Proceeds from the sale of an object may only be applied toward collection acquisitions.

Since that time, the governance committee has established procedures for monitoring and enforcing compliance with PMA's policies, including the conflict of interest policy. Each trustee is required to review and sign a copy of the PMA Code of Ethics on an annual basis. Also on an annual basis, each trustee is required to complete and submit a personal information form on which any potential conflicts of interest are to be disclosed. In 2010, the PMA engaged an independent HR consulting firm, Maine HR Partners, LLC, to conduct a classification and compensation study of all positions, including the Director and Deputy Directors. The study included a customized salary and employee benefits survey of comparable organizations, as well as other employers in the relevant market areas and in other published surveys. A survey of fringe benefit practices was also conducted and the results incorporated into the final report, in order to consider total compensation in the establishment of a salary structure. Based on this analysis of market data, salary ranges were developed which address the concepts of market competitiveness and internal equity considerations. In 2014, the same firm conducted another survey of comparable organizations and the PMA's salary ranges were adjusted to reflect this new data. Maine HR Partners, LLC, also worked with PMA staff and the human resources committee to develop a performance evaluation system, which included 360 degree performance reviews of these individuals. The Director's performance review is conducted by the Board President and reviewed with the executive committee. The Deputy Director's performance review is conducted by the Director and presented to the executive committee. Compensation for these two individuals is determined by vote of the executive committee, utilizing the performance review data and data from the independent classification and compensation study.
